AATC
American Association for Teaching and Curriculum
22nd Annual Conference
Portland, Maine
October 8-10, 2015
PRESIDENT’S GREETINGS

October 2015

On behalf of the AATC Executive Council, I extend a warm welcome to all conference attendees. Thank you for coming to Portland, Maine. The American Association for Teaching and Curriculum is in its 22nd year, at a time when teaching, curriculum standards, and colleges of education are under increased scrutiny. In the past year, the national dialogue about race also has come to the forefront of our attention, and public schools are on the front line. According to the National Center for Education Statistics, student demographics at public schools in the nation are shifting dramatically. The white student population in public schools was 59% in 2002 but is predicted to fall to 46% by 2024. The black student population is also declining slightly whereas a modest increase is expected for Asian students and students of two or more races. The largest increase, representing 11% over the same 22 year period, is anticipated to be in the Hispanic student population. Thus, the public schools reflect an increase in diversity, with an increase in the percentage of English language learners. Se habla español?

This year’s Conference features two renowned keynote speakers who have addressed issues with respect to teaching, curriculum, and student diversity in different ways. Christine Woyshner, Chair of the Department of Teaching and Learning at Temple University, has authored and edited several books on issues of race and gender in education. Nel Noddings, Emeritus Professor at Stanford University, reminds us of the importance of caring, happiness, and democracy in 21st century education arenas. We are also featuring special sessions to allow our graduate students and early career faculty to interact with our keynote speakers and member mentors. We will continue our tradition of the graduate student breakfast, the writer’s workshop, and a special session devoted to those interested in writing and reviewing for our journal, Curriculum and Teaching Dialogue.

Congratulations to the two O.L. Davis, Jr. Book Award recipients: Amy Demarest’s book Place-based Curriculum Design: Exceeding Standards through Local Investigations and former AATC President, David Callejo-Perez, Executive Council Member Donna Breault, and President-Elect William White who co-authored Curriculum as Spaces: Aesthetics, Community, and the Politics of Place. This represents the first instance where long-time AATC members have earned the distinguished award. Look for these two award winning books at our book fair. The AATC John Laska Distinguished Dissertation Award in Teaching is awarded to Caroline Jernigan Conner for her research, acknowledging the “Elephant in the Room: A Multiple Case Study Exploring the Experiences of Social Studies Teacher-Coaches.”

It is my deep hope that the sessions, conversations, and interactions during the conference will inspire you to make the world of teaching and curriculum a better place for all America’s diverse students. During his recent visit to the United States, Pope Francis reminded Americans to cherish our heritage as a land that welcomed immigrants who sought a new and better life. Of course, as educators, we know that the key to improving the educational experience is at the heart of teaching and curriculum – critical components of excellent educational opportunities.

Enjoy the conference.

In the United States, most areas of scholarly investigation emerged as recognized fields of study about a hundred years ago. One of the events that made this possible was the founding of national learned societies devoted to the advancement of scholarship in their respective fields. Examples of the newly formed learned societies are the American Historical Association (1884), the American Economic Association (1885), the American Philosophical Association (1901), the American Political Science Association (1903) and the American Academy of Religion (1909).

The scholarly field of teaching and curriculum, however, was not represented in the formation of the early American Scholarly organizations, even though university departments that encompassed both the scholarly and the professional study of teaching and curriculum had been established prior to the end of the nineteenth century. Several types of groups were formed eventually including those concerned primarily with the rights and responsibilities of teachers (unions), ones recognizing honor performance (e.g. Kappa Delta Pi) and organizations whose members' interests are primarily K–12 content and methods (e.g. ASCD, IRA) or had a narrow focus in one field of education, such as philosophy or education policy.

An important historical event in the development of organizations dealing with the scholarly field of teaching and curriculum was the founding of the American Association for Teaching and Curriculum (AATC) on October 1, 1993. The members of the AATC believed that the time was long overdue to recognize teaching and curriculum as a basic field of scholarly study, to constitute a national learned society for the scholarly field of teaching and curriculum (teaching is the more inclusive concept; curriculum is an integral part of teaching—the "what to teach" aspect). In the larger universities, faculty members identified with this field of scholarly study typically affiliated with departments of curriculum and instruction, teacher education, or elementary and secondary education. Jack Laska became the first secretary–treasurer of AATC. AATC continues to produce scholarship in teaching and curriculum and serve the general public through its conferences, journals, and the interaction of its members.

The purpose of the organization as originally defined in Article 1, Section 2 of the AATC Constitution:

To promote the scholarly study of teaching and curriculum

The Twenty-second Annual Conference is dedicated to advancing the ideals of the Association and its purpose.

The intent of AATC sessions is to engage conversation and explore new ideas and share information. The founders of AATC wanted conversations to begin and continue long after the conference is over. The arrangement is a deliberate intent to avoid the common practice of "Speak and Run" which has permeated so many of the professional organizations. Hopefully, attendees will want to stay and engage for the entire conference. Much can be learned! Enjoy the conference.

Keynote Speaker: Christine Woyshner

“Toward a Curriculum of Meaning in a Time of Fear”

Christine Woyshner is Professor of Education at Temple University, where she is Chair of the Teaching and Learning Department. Her research focuses on the role of civic voluntary organizations in public education; she also conducts research on race and gender in the K-12 school curriculum. Woyshner earned her doctorate at Harvard University’s Graduate School of Education in 1999. In addition to publishing numerous articles and book chapters, she is author or co-editor of Minding Women: Reshaping the Educational Realm (Harvard Educational Publishing Group, 1998), Social Education in the Twentieth Century: Curriculum and Context for Citizenship (Peter Lang Publishers, 2004), The Educational Work of Women’s Organizations, 1890-1960 (Palgrave Macmillan, 2008); The National PTA, Race, and Civic Engagement, 1897-1970 (Ohio State University Press, 2009); Histories of Social Studies and Race, 1865-2000
(Palgrave Macmillan, 2012); and Leaders in Social Education: Intellectual Self-Portraits (Sense Publishers, 2014). Woyshner developed the Cultural Fieldwork Initiative in 2011 for pre-service social studies teachers in collaboration with Andrea Reidell of the National Archives in Philadelphia. The CFI places approximately fifty social studies pre-service teachers a year at Philadelphia-area museums, archives, and historic sites. She is currently beginning to work on a new book, the role of black civic voluntary organizations in shaping public education in the South before Brown.

Curriculum and Teaching Dialogue (CTD) is a publication of the American Association of Teaching and Curriculum (AATC), a national learned society for the scholarly field of teaching and curriculum. The field includes those working on the theory, design and evaluation of educational programs at large. At the university level, faculty members identified with this field are typically affiliated with the departments of curriculum and instruction, teacher education, educational foundations, elementary education, secondary education, and higher education. CTD promotes all analytical and interpretive approaches that are appropriate for the scholarly study of teaching and curriculum. In fulfillment of this mission, CTD addresses a range of issues across the broad fields of educational research and policy for all grade levels and types of educational programs.

Manuscript Categories

Selected Conference Papers*
These papers must have been presented at the annual conference held in October of each year. The length must not exceed 20 pages double-spaced or 5000 words including references. Manuscripts in this category must be received by November 1, 2015.

Open Submission Papers*
These papers do not have to be presented at the annual conference, but must be on topics related to teaching and/or curriculum. The length must not exceed 20 pages double-spaced or 5000 words including references. Manuscripts in this category must be received by November 15th, 2015.

Research Outtakes
Outtakés provides researchers with an opportunity to share unusual situations, surprises, and unexpected challenges that they have encountered in conducting research but which may be out of place in a standard research report. Submissions should range between 500 to 1000 words and must be submitted by February 1, 2016.

Book Reviews
Reviews of books related to the teaching or curriculum fields will also be welcomed. The length must not exceed 4 pages double-spaced or 1000 words and must be submitted by February 1, 2016.

Dialogue Column
This column is open to anyone who wishes to respond to previously published CTD manuscripts or presentations at AATC conferences. The length must not exceed 4 pages double-spaced or 1000 words. Manuscripts in this category may be submitted for review at any time.

Letters to the Editor
These will be selected at the discretion of the Editors and may be submitted at any time.

*Published articles are eligible for the annual Hunkins Distinguished Article Award.

Guidelines for Submitting a Manuscript
All Submissions must be electronic. Send to Kate Kauper at kkauper@cornellcollege.edu

Submit two separate files via email:
• Document One: Cover page that includes title of manuscript, submission category, all authors’ names in publication order, corresponding author’s full mailing address, telephone number, fax, and email contact information. Also include abstract (75 words max) and biography for each author (20 words max).
• Document Two: Manuscript with title (no authors), abstract (75 words max), references, and prepared for blind review

Specifications:
• 12 point font, double-spaced, one-inch margins, page limit according to category
• Entire document (including references) in APA format
• Word format. DO NOT send pdf files.
• Include page numbers
• Tables, figures, and graphs attached at end of manuscript, with specific program used to create them noted and with place in manuscript indicated by [insert Table X here].

Questions may be sent to: Kate Kauper at kkauper@cornellcollege.edu

For further information on Curriculum & Teaching Dialogue or AATC, visit www.aatchome.org.

All manuscripts will be reviewed by the Editorial Board. Accepted manuscripts will be published annually.

Call for Proposals for 2016 Conference Grand Rapids, MI

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR TEACHING AND CURRICULUM
Twenty-third Annual Conference
“Education for a Better Tomorrow: Social Justice, Community, and Peace”
October 13-15
www.aatchome.org

DoubleTree by Hilton Grand Rapids Airport
4747 28th St. SE
Grand Rapids, MI 49512
(616) 957-0100

The American Association for Teaching and Curriculum (AATC) invites proposals for the Twenty-third Annual Conference in Grand Rapids, MI. The types of presentations being solicited include Papers, Ideas and Issues, Panels/Symposia, and Poster Sessions.

- A Paper presentation is a formal paper reporting ongoing or completed research and invites questions and discussion. Copies of the paper should be distributed and should not have been previously presented. Paper presentations are allotted 10-15 minutes for the presentation plus an additional 15-20 minutes for discussion.

- An Ideas and Issues session is a presentation of questions for inquiry and/or concepts or theories to engage the audience in discussion. Ideas and Issues sessions are allotted at least 30 minutes, with more time as the program schedule permits.

- A Panel/Symposium involves several speakers discussing varied points of view on a specified issue of interest to the AATC membership. Panels/Symposia are allotted 60 minutes for presentations and audience participation.

- A Poster Session incorporates a graphic representation and an oral presentation on a current educational issue. Graduate students will present their poster in a roundtable format. Participants will move from poster to poster for a short presentation by the presenter with a chance to ask questions.

Proposal Guidelines

- Proposals are to be prepared according to the outline specified on the Proposal Application Below. Proposals that do not follow this format will not be reviewed.
- Proposals need to be submitted through the AATC online website portal or as MS Word documents or as Rich Text Format if MS Word is not available.
- Institutions or School Districts should not be identified in the proposal.
- All proposals for presentation at the AATC annual conference will be subjected to blind review.
- Submit electronically as two separate documents to aatcconference@gmail.com o 1 Proposal application
  o 1 Narrative for the presentation/proposal

General Proposal/Presentation Information

- Proposals must be received no later than: March 1, 2016.
- Presenters should pre-register for the conference. If your registration is not received by September 9th, 2016, your name will be removed from the program.
- Presenters should bring 15 copies of any materials for sharing at the conference.
- No A-V equipment is supplied; if necessary, please secure projectors/screens through the hotel service or on your own.

Please remember that AATC is a different kind of conference. Participants are strongly encouraged to come for the entire conference and engage in discussion about issues and ideas raised. If you have any questions and/or are willing to serve as a reviewer of proposals or as a session moderator, your help would be greatly appreciated. For any inquiries or information, please send an email message to:

aatcconference@gmail.com.
