

2021 Conference Call for Proposals

27th Annual Conference of the American Association for Teaching and Curriculum

Creativity and the Muse

Proposals are due no later than May 1st, 2021

Albuquerque, NM
October 7-9, 2021

Submit proposals electronically to:

<http://aatchome.org/conference/2021proposal/>

The theme of this year's conference is Creativity and the Muse. AATC is soliciting proposals that explore the nature of creativity and the "muses" (or inspirations) we look to in our work—particularly during these challenging times in education. However, proposals that address any issue related to teaching, curriculum, or educational practice are also welcomed. Presentation types can include: Papers, Issues and Ideas, Posters, Panels/Symposia, and Workshops.

Keynote Speakers:

	Dr. Sam Intrator (Smith College), author of Tuned in and Fired Up: How Teaching Can Inspire Real Learning in the Classroom (Yale University Press), which was a finalist for the prestigious Grawemeyer Award in education, and Leading From Within: Poetry That Sustains the Courage to Lead (Jossey-Bass), which received the 2009 Nautilus Book Award Gold Medal for Poetry.
	Dr. Greg Cajete (University of New Mexico), author of Look to the Mountain: An Ecology of Indigenous Education (1994); Igniting the Sparkle: An Indigenous Science Education Curriculum Model (1999); Spirit of the Game: Indigenous Wellsprings (2004); A People's Ecology: Explorations in Sustainable Living (1999); and Native Science: Natural Laws of Interdependence (2000).

Location

DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Albuquerque
201 Marquette Ave NW, Albuquerque, NM 87102
(505) 247-3344
hilton.com

We're looking forward to seeing our AATC colleagues and guests in-person October 7 - 9, 2021 in Albuquerque, New Mexico. We will continue to observe CDC recommendations regarding the pandemic and we are prepared to offer a hybrid or virtual component for a portion of the conference if needs be. Please stay tuned to learn more through conference emails, the AATC website, and our social media feeds. Questions? Please email the program chair, Daniel Conn at aateconference@gmail.com